Our Story

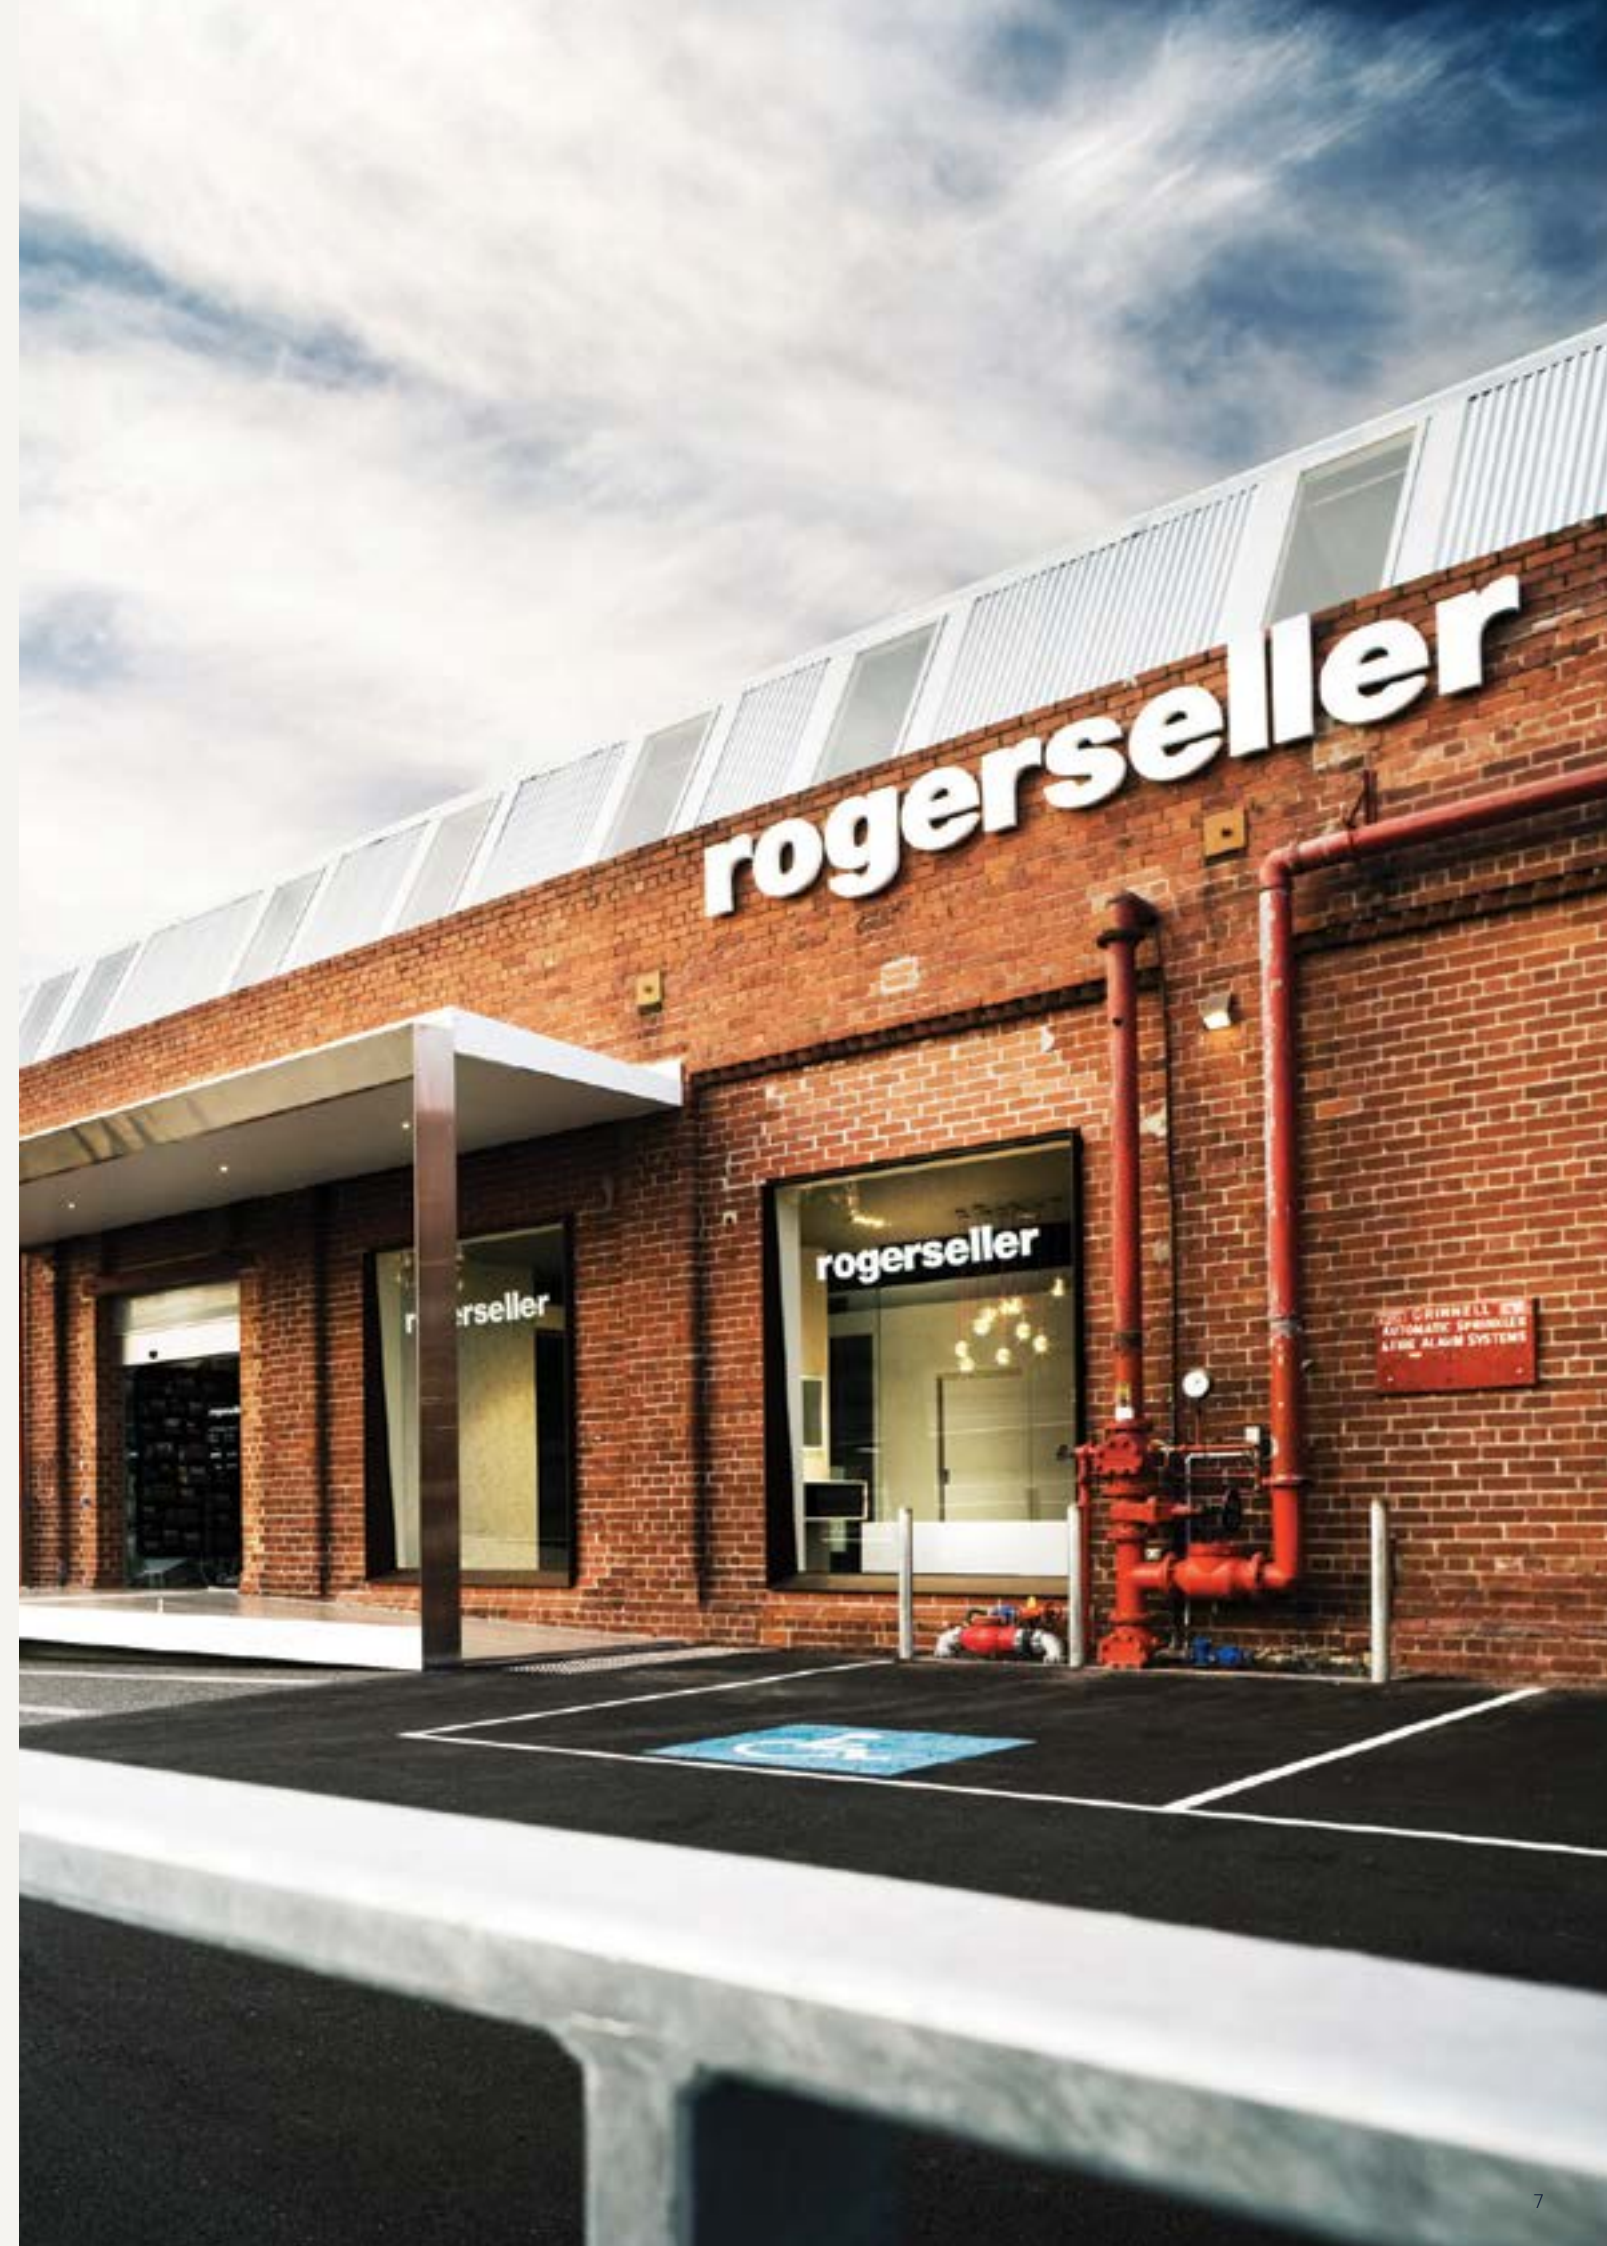

Established in Melbourne in 1895,

Rogerseller (or Rogers, Seller and Myhill as we were known) quickly become renowned as premium retailers, manufactures and importers of mantelpieces, grates, sanitaryware, tiles and door furniture. Spanning three generations, two world wars and numerous boom and busts of the local building industry, our once family-owned business has led the way in providing Australia with the beautifully designed fittings for the living environment.

To this day, our products from bygone years still adorn many exclusive residences alongside some of the most prestigious commercial developments in the nation.

Today, our focus is to supply the finest bathware and kitchen solutions in the market that we design and manufacture. These premium collections are closely aligned to everything we are passionate about - design, style, enduring quality and creativity - as well as being continual innovators who never compromise the integrity of their products.

So while the breadth of our product range has evolved throughout the time, our core essence has remained the same - a passion and commitment to offering timelessly designed, premium quality fixtures and fittings. Which makes us, still to this day, the solution for unique, memorable and design inspired bathrooms and kitchens.

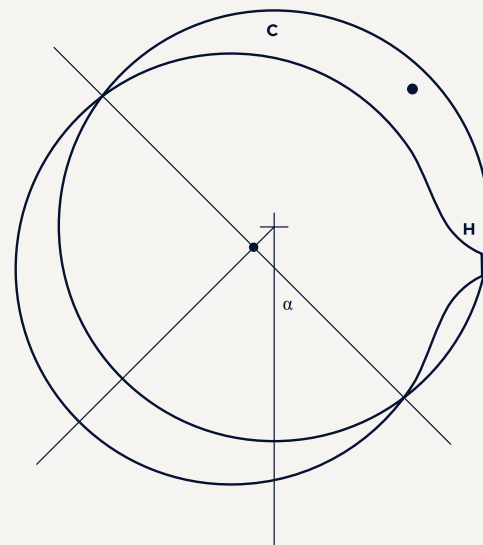

Over Forty Years of Design

Design Principles

Rogerseller's in-house product design and development team is the force behind the iconic By Rogerseller collections featured in this selection guide.

Rogerseller has been creating its own collections for over 40 years with a tireless mission to deliver unique solutions that promise to positively affect the life of the user and enhance their wellbeing through thorough researching of market needs, sourcing the best manufacturers in Australia and around the world that utilise the latest technological advancements in both materials and manufacturing processes.

Every product is taken through a rigorous design and development process to ensure throughout its lifetime it delivers on our commandments to product design.

Innovation

Technological advancement in materials and manufacturing processes.

Detail

Design considered down to the finest detail connecting with user sensibilities.

Aesthetic

Timeless simplicity – Iconic and distinguishable yet understated.

Beautiful design with intuitive function and human interaction.

Environment

Respect environmental impact and maintain relevance for longevity.

Honesty

Deliver authenticity and sustainable value.

We are proud to present the full By Rogerseller collection to showcase our timeless designs — providing a complete bathroom solution.

A Signature Finish: Natural Elements

Inspired by the colours of the environment around us, Rogerseller's Natural Elements collection of finishes captures the textures and hues of raw, organic materials in an unparalleled celebration of craftsmanship and materiality.

Smooth and steely like the reflection of a calm lake, Chrome is an eternally popular finish for its durability, timeless value and unique aesthetic of cold

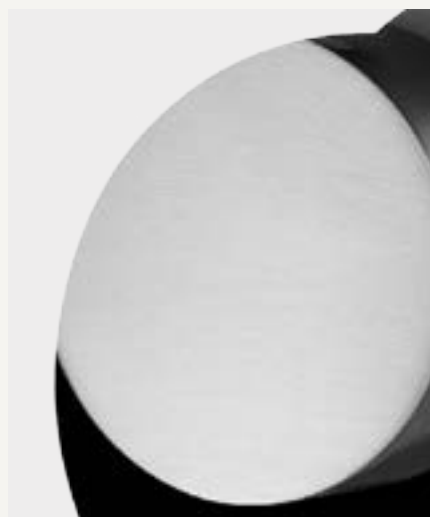

GRAPHITE

An exquisite composition of satin nickel and trivalent chrome technology, Graphite brings you a velvety dark grey with a hint of cool blue hues for a hard-wearing, contemporary finish.

MATTE BLACK

Resistant to fading and scuffing, Matte Black is bold and memorable – inspired by ancient volcanic rock, some of the earth's oldest naturally occurring materials.

BRUSHED NICKEL

Brushed Nickel draws on the interplay of light and dark, hard and soft in the natural world. A cool, contemporary undertone meets subtle warmth and texture.

BRUSHED GOLD

Brushed Gold captures the natural world's most luxurious texture. Decadent yet lighthearted, this finish showcases the allure of raw materials with a gently contemporary character.

ECCENTRIC

Eccentric
by Rogerseller

Inspired by great minds that defy convention

Designed by Rogerseller, Eccentric pays homage to the quirky genius of the greatest minds in history. Albert Einstein's bizarre habit of picking up used cigarettes, Nikola Tesla's daily toe exercises and Yoshiro Nakamatsu's oxygen depriving deep dives are acts that tell of the individualism, wonder and curiosity found in many great scientists, explorers and inventors, and the rebellion against convention that defines them.

This refined aesthetic is available in our collection of Natural Elements finishes and extends into tapware, showers and accessories, offering a complete bathroom solution.

Using German progressive cartridge technology, Eccentric by Rogerseller enhances user safety and energy saving by opening in a low-pressure, cold position which increases in pressure with the turn of the dial. Unlike a traditional mixer, hot water is introduced only when required by rotating the mixer past the cold mark, increasing in temperature as the dial moves to its furthest open position.

With its axis uniquely positioned off-centre, Eccentric was bound to defy convention. Winning the Red Dot Award for Product Design as well as a Good Design Selection in the Design Award.

Eccentric Tapware by Rogerseller

Sculptural, intelligent and unexpectedly intuitive.

At the heart of the collection, Eccentric tapware features an off-centre axis that reveals hot and cold indicators only in use — returning to a minimal, balanced state when off.

Engineered with German progressive cartridge technology, the mixer opens in a low-pressure cold position, increasing pressure and temperature only when needed — reducing energy waste and improving safety.

Eccentric Showers by Rogerseller

A nod to performance. A masterclass in restraint.

Referencing the geometry of vintage Art Deco microphones, the Eccentric shower range is designed to deliver both visual impact and technical performance.

The Quad Spray pattern — delivered via elongated perforations — creates a soft, generous downpour, while its restricted 9L/min flow rate meets modern water efficiency standards.

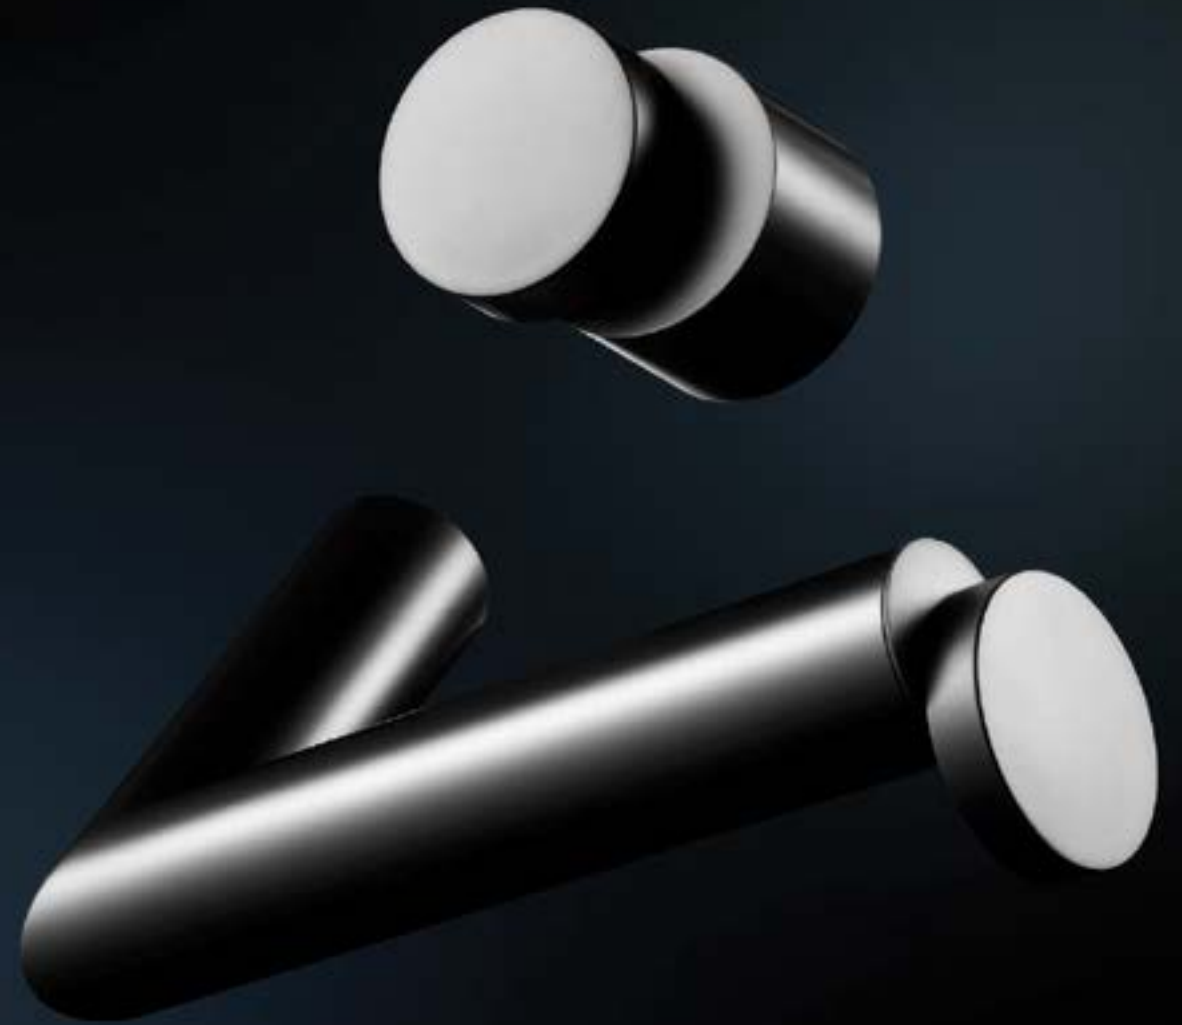

Precision-machined in Australia from solid brass and stainless steel, these are enduring, minimalist forms — without the gimmicks.

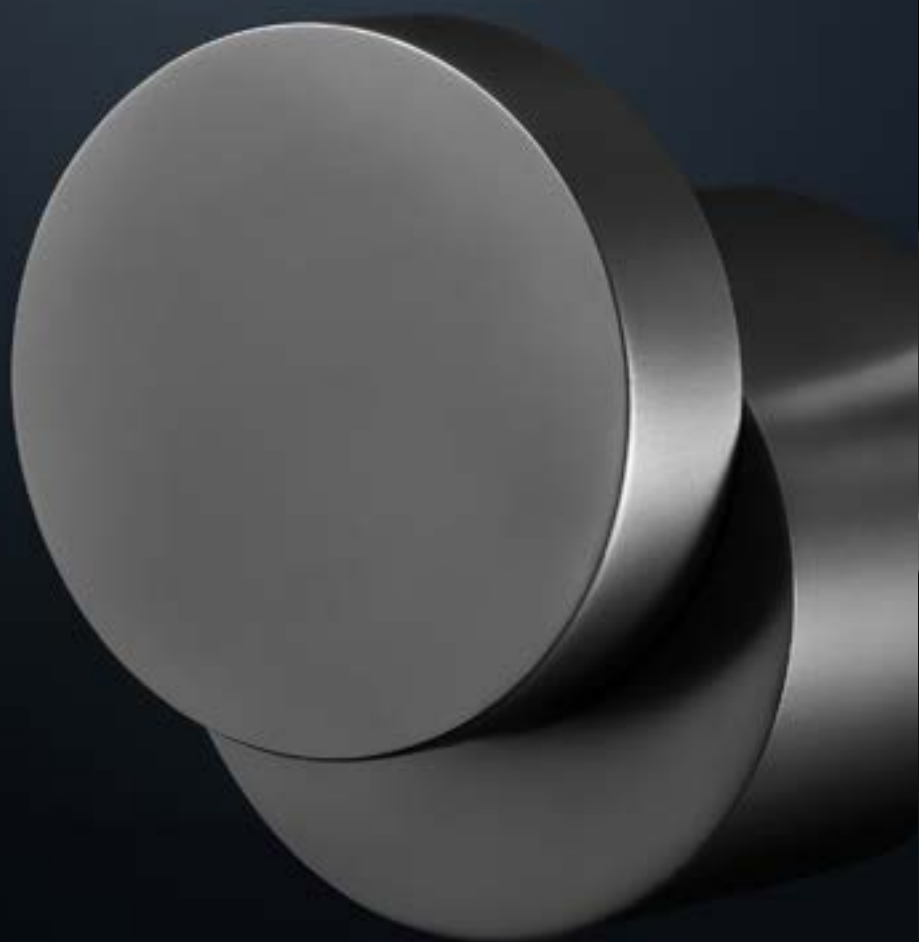

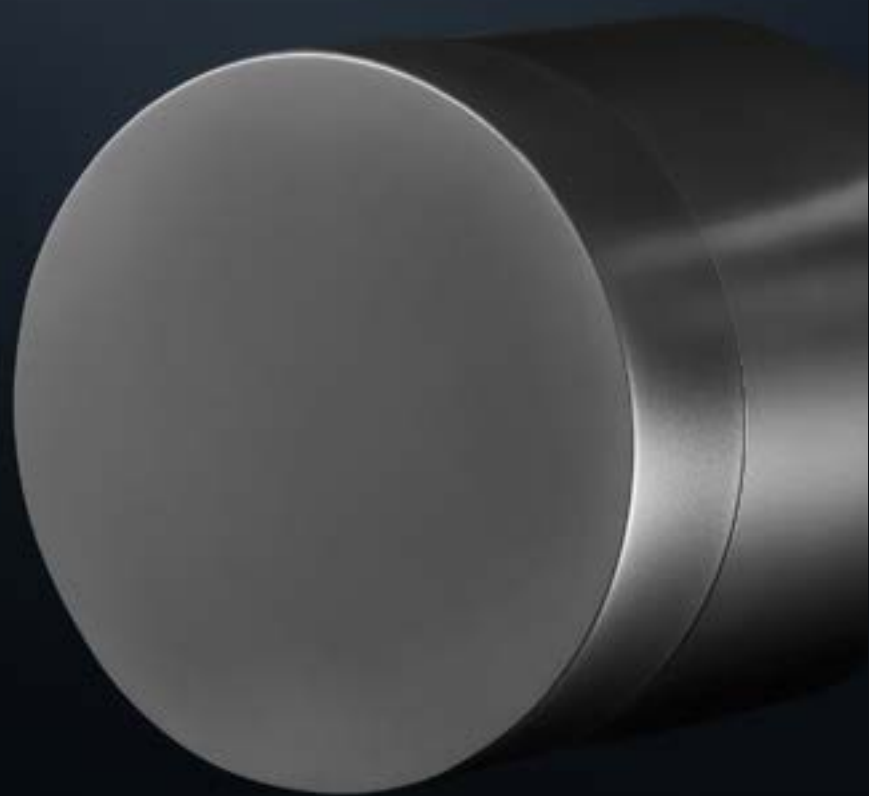

Eccentric Accessories by Rogerseller

Form follows function. And a little rebellion.

Extending the collection's signature circular geometry, the Eccentric accessories bring cohesion to the bathroom — with subtle nods to the range's off-centre, rule-breaking spirit.

Made in Australia and crafted to the same high standards as the core range, each piece is designed to elevate both utility and aesthetic.

Utilitarian yet elegant spacecraft design.

Apollo by Rogerseller is a utilitarian yet elegant flush plate that draws inspiration from an instrumental dashboard of a spacecraft. The cylindrical buttons are identical in geometry but are differentiated using symbols that apply cognitive ergonomic principles. These are particularly important in spacecraft design to optimise performance, safety & wellbeing under operating conditions of zero gravity.

Apollo by Rogerseller symbolises the strength of the flush by a set of shaded graphical rectangles that are easy to read and provoke a quick response. The manual operation of the buttons feels deliberate and provides tactile feedback when activating the flush valve bellows.

Constructed of solid brass, the button and plate embody certainty and quality.
