

393F LIGHT RECTANGULAR TABLE

By Matthew Hilton

Light Rectangular Table reflects Matthew Hilton's interest in the concept of 'impossible lightness,' where he tries to create the feeling of greater spaciousness in a room by reducing the visual weight of his furniture. Surprisingly slender, this sculptural table features a slim tabletop, with timber planks oriented lengthwise to proudly display the quality and natural beauty of the material, and a cantilevered leg with complex joinery.

Also available as a fixed oval table, or an extending rectangular table.
